

The Association for Core Texts and Courses (ACTC) invites you to its Fifth Annual Conference:

UNITING THE LIBERAL ARTS: CORE AND CONTEXT

Sponsored by Louisiana State University and Southeastern Louisiana University in

New Orleans, Louisiana

Thursday evening through Sunday morning, 8 - 11 April, 1999

Avenue Plaza Hotel (800) 535 9575 and Pontchartrain Hotel (800) 777 6193

ACTC is dedicated to the use of core texts in required, undergraduate core curricula.

---

This year's conference:

UNITING THE LIBERAL ARTS: CORE AND CONTEXT

As has been the case with past conferences, we will have four excellent plenary speakers, each concerned with the theme of the conference.

Interdisciplinary Session (Thursday evening)

EVA BRANN

former Dean of St. John's College (Annapolis)

author of Paradoxes of Education in a Republic and The World of the Imagination

---

Sciences Session (Friday)

JOAN RICHARDS

Brown University

author of Mathematical Vision: The Pursuit of Geometry in Victorian England

---

Social Sciences Session (Saturday)

CATHERINE ZUCKERT

Professor at Notre Dame

author of Natural Right and the American Imagination and Postmodern Platos.

---

Humanities Session

J. PETER EUBEN

Professor at the University of California, Santa Cruz author of The Tragedy of Political Theory: the road not taken and Corrupting Youth: political education, democratic culture, and political theory.

---

In addition:

STEPHEN C. ZELNICK

President of ACTC, will address the conference.

---